

FORTUNE ACADEMY

About Fortune Academy

Fortune Academy is a destination for the education of individuals with learning differences. We are committed to enhancing innovative opportunities for our 1-12th grade students, teacher training, and the expansion of a comprehensive community resource center. We are a leader in research-based education. According to research done by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, nearly 1 in 5 students are affected by dyslexia, 1 in 30 have been diagnosed with ADD/ADHD and over 40% of students with language based learning differences are improperly placed in special needs programs that aren't addressing their needs. We are home to these students. We are currently seeking an experienced full-time Language Arts teacher to join our dynamic high school faculty. It is essential that candidates have a philosophy based on student-centered instruction, and experience with learning differences and differentiation of instruction. Candidates must possess intellectual curiosity, strong communication skills, flexibility of teaching style, and an openness to others' ideas.

About the position

Fortune Academy seeks a high school language art and writing teacher with a passion and commitment to lifelong learning. The ideal candidate brings a collaborative style, is self-directed, child centered and values a community of highly engaged, compassionate, and motivated educators. We are seeking candidates with experience and/or interest in teaching students with language-based learning differences.

Experience Preferred

- Master's in Education, Special Education, or Literacy & Reading Specialist
- A minimum of three to four years' experience with reading and writing instruction/remediation with learning differences and differentiated curriculum
- Understanding of high school literature content
- Teaching professional development opportunities

Responsibilities

- Teach Language Arts classes consisting of 6-8 students
- Apply a multisensory, diagnostic, prescriptive approach to instruction
- Create highly focused data-informed lesson plans specific to students' needs
- Work with high school curriculum team to develop and customize curriculum
- Develop positive working relationships with all constituencies: students, parents, colleagues
- May assist in after-school program activities
- Perform other duties as required

Salary

Commensurate with experience

"We are a comprehensive school dedicated to educating and equipping students with language learning differences to become competent and confident life-long learners."